

HAD VERY LITTLE BUT EVERYTHING THEY HAD IS GONE

Two Young Men Approach Hobo Fire and are Taken into Camp By Quartet of Mixed Colors in Railroad Yards—One is Shoeless

TRAMPS BAREFOOTED HOME

Victims of stickup men, one hatless and the other shoeless, Harrison Farley and Wash Turley, young men of Mechanicsburg, were forced to abandon an excursion trip from the city and return to town for equipment last night. The robbery was reported to policemen, but the stick-up men escaped before they could be reached.

Farley and Turley started out last night to leave the city. One had 60 cents in money and a new hat. The other wore a new pair of shoes. They went to the Illinois Central south yards to catch an outgoing freight train. Seeing a fire in the distance, they approached, finding two negroes and two white men surrounding it. They suspected nothing and approached boldly.

"Come in here, you fellows," one of the white men commanded, displaying a revolver by way of inducement. "What yer got on you?"

Without waiting for the young men to reply the two went through their pockets, while the fourth held the gun. Sixty cents was all the money secured, this being taken from Farley. Farley's new hat was also taken from his head. After gauging the fit with his eye, one of the white men commanded Turley to "peel the kicks," which the young man did. After being relieved of money, hat and shoes, the pair were dismissed and warned to "stay nothing." Turley had to tramp to the city shoeless his feet suffering greatly from exposure. At the city hall they reported the robbery but too late. The quartet has disappeared.

THREE MILLIONS LOST IN FLAMES AS WHEAT BURNS

Superior, Wis., Nov. 9.—Six hundred thousand bushels of grain were destroyed today when the Great Northern's elevator, one of the largest in the world, burned to the ground. The property loss is estimated at $3,000,000. Four fire tugs from Duluth aided in fighting the flames. Tugs rescued five lake steamers, which were loaded. The docks burned and also two tugs, derrick and saws. The Grand Republic mill was set on fire by sparks. The Free man flour mill is a total loss. In all about forty buildings were burning at one time, but the loss on some is small. One man may have lost his life.

The fire burned from 9 o'clock last night until 11 o'clock today, after sweeping over a mile of ground.

NO FRANCHISE SALE

Mayor Vesper, pursuant to instructions from the council, offered for sale a franchise to operate a telephone company in Paducah, this morning at 10 o'clock at the city hall, but had no bidders. This was merely a formality to make the city's stand secure in its litigation against the East Tennessee Telephone company, which was notified of the sale, but declined to bid.

FARMERS ORGANIZE

Owensboro, Nov. 9. (Special.)—Five thousand men are in town today. A call was issued for a meeting to form a law and order league. The American Society of Equity men heard about it and this afternoon 2,000 of their men came to town to get possession of the court house, and hold a meeting. They adopted resolutions denouncing lawlessness and any one who accused them of lawlessness. Meanwhile the other faction met in the court house yard and formed a league. They had about 2,000 in their crowd. The fight is between the men, who pool tobacco in Louisville, and the so-called warehouse crowd. There is great excitement but no disorder so far.

THE REV. FATHER H. W. JANSEN TO CELEBRATE SILVER JUBILEE OF PASTORATE IN PADUCAH

Sunday, November 17, Popular Priest of St. Francis de Sales Will Be Feted By His Congregation.

An event of much interest and importance to Catholics of Paducah and Western Kentucky generally will be the celebration of the silver jubilee or twenty-fifth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Father Herman William Jansen, of St. Francis de Sales church November 17, 18 and 19.

The Triduum service of Thanksgiving, which covers three days and is only used to celebrate important events, will be conducted by the Rev. Bishop William George McCloskey, of Louisville, who ordained Father Jansen at Louisville, May 19, 1875. The celebration will close with a social reception in the new Knights of Columbus hall on Broadway, which will be open to the public for the first time, on the afternoon and evening of November 19; and a lecture by Father A. A. Lambert, of Chicago, at night.

Father Lambert is one of the most noted platform lecturers in the United States.

Father Jansen received the appointment as pastor of St. Francis de Sales church November 17, 1882, and assumed charge on November 19 of the same year, and during the long period of his service here he has become endeared not only to the communicants of his own church, but to the community at large by his genial and gentle personality and affable manner.

A remarkable fact in connection with his pastorate here is, that during the whole 25 years he has never been out of town a single Sunday. He has missed holding only two Sunday services. On one of these occasions he was ill himself and the other he was prevented from being present by a sick call.

As a token of their appreciation of their beloved pastor the members of the church will present him with a handsome memorial.

Biographical Sketch.

The Rev. Father Herman William Jansen was born at Louisville, Ky., September 25, 1851, and his first education was received at St. Martin's parochial school in that city. Later he entered St. Thomas seminary, in Nelson county, taking a three years' course. He also took a three years' course in St. Joseph's college, Hardstown, and was finally graduated from Preston Park seminary, Louisville. He was ordained at Louisville May 19, 1879, and his first mass was said at St. Martin's church. His first charge was at Shelbyville, Ky., where he remained six months and was transferred to Nicholasville, Ky., where he was pastor seven years. He received the appointment as pastor of St. Francis de Sales, Paducah, November 17, 1882, and entered upon his work two days later.

Next Governor of Kentucky

Augustus E. Willson, the governor-elect of Kentucky, has been prominent in Republican politics in Kentucky since 1884 when he became a candidate for the state senate against Albert S. Willis in the district between Fifth and Shelby streets. He was at that time the law partner of Gen. John Harlan, now of the United States supreme bench. He was the nominee of his party for congress in 1886, in 1888 and 1892, and served as a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1888, 1892 and 1896.

During the A. P. A. agitation in 1895 Mr. Willson fell out of line with his party through his defense of the rights of Catholic voters, and had taken no personally active part in politics until his nomination last July, with the exception of making contests for the same honor in 1903, when Morris Belknap was nominated for the office.

The first public service of Mr. Willson was when, as chief clerk of the treasury department for nearly two years he assisted in smashing the "whisky ring" which endeavored to evade the payment of internal revenue taxes. This was immediately after he had been admitted to partnership with General Harlan in 1874, and when he was 28 years old. Before this he had studied law for four years with the firm of Lathrop, Hishop & Lincoln, in Boston, Mass., and with the firm of Harlan & Newman in Louisville after his graduation from Harvard University in 1869.

Mr. Willson was born at Mayfield, Ky., October 13, 1846, of New England Baptist parents, who emigrated overland to Pittsburg, Pa., and thence to Kentucky in 1845. In 1852 the family removed to Covington and thence to New Albany, Ind. After his father's death the family went with his oldest brother, Porcysine Willson, one of the most favorably known of the early minor poets, to Cambridge, Mass., where Mr. Willson remained until 1870 when he returned to make his home in Louisville. He was married in 1877 to Miss Mary Ekin, a daughter of Gen. James A. Ekin, of the quartermaster's department of the United States army, and one child was born to them, who died in infancy.

While Mrs. Willson had been decidedly opposed to her husband's entrance into politics and tried to persuade him not to work for his nomination. She is much interested in the charitable institutions of the state and will undoubtedly use her influence for the betterment of conditions in this direction.

TWO RECRUITS

Capt. William Reed, of the recruiting service, will arrive in Paducah today and will enlist three recruits, whose applications have been accepted by Sergeant Blake, of the local office. They are Leonard Peck, of Salem, Ky., and William Sexton, of George Foster, of New York City. They will be sent to Jefferson Barracks, where they will be assigned to regiments. Sergeant Blake will go to Mayfield Monday and open a recruiting office, remaining there three days.

HE BELIEVES THE DOG

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 9.—Because his dog failed to bark when some one entered his house and stole jewelry worth $500, Gustave Bluthardt accused his son and asked the police to arrest him. Bluthardt claims no one unacquainted with the dog could have gone into the house. He admits the dog's record for faithfulness is greater than his son's, who has been wayward for two years.

FIRST DISTRICT AND RURAL ROUTES

Washington, Nov. 9.—The post-office department, in a bulletin just issued, shows that on November 1 there were 675 rural routes in operation in Kentucky. The Eleventh district, where the service was but recently installed, now has eight rural routes. The other Kentucky districts are supplied with rural routes as follows: First, 117; Second, 108; Third, 71; Fourth, 93; Fifth, 24; Sixth, 58; Seventh, 67; Eighth, 56; Ninth, 60; Tenth, 13.

Capt. Farley Busy

One of the busiest men in Paducah is Capt. Edwin Farley, state treasurer-elect. He has received a deluge of congratulatory telegrams and letters from friends all over the United States, and he has engaged assistance to help him answer them. He has not been down town since election, just staying at home, reading and answering his mail.

1,160 HOGSHEADS LIVERPOOL SALES OF 1906 STRIPS

Henderson, Ky., Nov. 9. (Special.)—One thousand one hundred and sixty hogsheads of strips of crop 1906 of the stemmeling district were sold in Liverpool for delivery January, 1908. The price is 13 to 15 cents.

Tampered With Grand Jury.

Owenton, Ky., Nov. 9. (Special.)—County Judge Yancy and Magistrates King and Prather were arrested, charged with tampering with the grand jury in securing indictments, charging embezzlement against former Sheriff Gayle, Swope and Alexander. Five members of the grand jury were also arrested. All were released when court sustained the demurrer to information, which caused the incarceration. The indictments against the sheriffs also were thrown out.

PADUCAH HIGH AND MAYFIELD PLAY FOOTBALL TODAY

Colley's vs. S. K. C.

The Itoy L. Colleys and the football team of the S. K. C. of Hopkinsville, will play football here next Friday. The S. K. C. team is one of the strongest in western Kentucky and good sport is promised. Six of the college team are Murray boys and are all known here as strong players.

TWENTY MINUTES SCHEDULE TO THE PARK HEREAFTER

The Paducah Traction company today announced a reduction in its car service, affecting the Broadway, Guthrie avenue and Gregory Hights lines. Beginning Monday morning the present ten minute schedule will be continued to Fountain avenue and Jefferson street, and the 20 minute schedule from there to the park; the Gregory Heights car will be run only on Sundays, in fair weather, and the Guthrie avenue car will be continued as at present, with the exception that there will be no conductor on the car, the motemen handling the transfers.

"We are making these reductions," said Manager Blocker today, "simply because present conditions make it imperative. The Gregory Heights line is not paying, as you can surmise, and the Broadway service, from Fountain avenue and Jefferson street to the park is not self-sustaining, so we feel we are justified in making the reduction in time. The street car business is feeling the present depression, like all other lines of business, and we must meet it. We are reducing our forces everywhere we can, and in a few days shall make reductions in our conductor service. We feel that conditions will be much improved by next spring, and the reductions now being made will be only temporary. As soon as business justifies we shall restore the present service."

Both Hands Shot Off.

Marionette, Wis., Nov. 9.—William Kolanda lost both hands in a hunting accident near Timine. He was standing on a log when the shotgun slipped from his grasp and was discharged.

PADUCAH DISTRICT HAS FINE RECORD FOR CONFERENCE

The Rev. J. W. Blackard Will Report Great Growth Spiritually, Numerically and Physically in Churches Under His Charge During Year

WILL BE SOME CHANGES MADE

The Rev. J. W. Blackard, presiding elder of the Paducah district, held the last of his quarterly conferences for this conference year at Reidsland today. He will preach at Reidsland tomorrow at 11 o'clock and will close the year's work at Broadway tomorrow evening.

The money stringency coming at the most critical period of the conference year has had some effect, but in all lines the district will make the finest report in its history.

There have been about 1,200 professions of faith during the year in the 22 churches in the district. There have been more than 1,000 additions to the membership, 80 per cent of these on profession of faith. Three new churches have been dedicated during the year. One other is in process of erection, while subscriptions are partly in hand for two others, one at Lone Oak, the other at Tilly, and plans are on foot for still another at Ogden. Two parsonages have been erected during the year, one at Lone Oak and one at La Center.

Money raised for support of the ministry for missions, charity, etc., is far in excess of previous years. The Paducah district is second to none in the conference and in several respects is now the leading district of the conference. This has been accomplished by much hard and fruitful work on the part of Dr. Blackard and his faithful co-laborers, the pastors in the district. Dr. Blackard is an ideal presiding elder possessing the executive ability so necessary in this work, and his energy and faith know no obstacles. He has been two years in the Paducah district and it is safe to prophesy a full four year term for him.

When interviewed today by a reporter for The Sun as to probable and reported changes in the personnel of the Paducah district churches, Dr. Blackard diplomatically replied:

"Changes? Well, yes. There will be a number, perhaps, one-third of the pastors in the district will be changed. Our system is strictly itinerant and if there is any considerable dissatisfaction on the part of either pastor or charge, there is a change. Sometimes changes are made when there is no dissatisfaction in order to adjust the work at other points. When a preacher is changed it does not mean that he has failed, on the contrary a preacher is frequently changed because he is in great demand elsewhere. Of course, I cannot tell you where or what the changes will be. I leave you to guess at that."

There is only one four year minister in the Paducah district this year, the Rev. Clough A. Waterfield, pastor of the First Methodist church in Mayfield. Mr. Waterfield has done a fine four years' work in his charge. He is one of the leading young men in the Memphis conference and a man of the "ten talent" order.

Dr. Blackard will leave Tuesday morning at 7:45 o'clock for Humboldt, Tenn., where the conference is convened on Wednesday morning by Bishop E. R. Hendrix of Kansas City, Mo. A meeting of the presiding elders of the conference, who constitute the "Bishop's Cabinet," will be held on Tuesday afternoon. The majority of the Paducah preachers will leave on Tuesday. Bishop Hendrix, who presides over the conference is one of the greatest of the Methodist bishops. He held the conference in Paducah nine years ago. His work moves along with ease and dispatch, and it is very probable that he will announce the conference appointments before noon on Monday. He did so in Paducah.

GOMPER'S REPLY

Washington, Nov. 9.—Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is preparing to launch a sensational attack on the National Manufacturers' association at the Federation's convention next week at Norfolk. It will be in the nature of a reply to recent charges of graft made against the federation's officers by the organ of the manufacturers.

GENERAL COUNCIL TURNS TO REPUBLICAN UNTIL JANUARY ON ACCOUNT OF SHORT TERMS

MICHAEL HUBBARD KILLED COMING TO MOTHER'S FUNERAL

Louisville, Nov. 9. (Special.)—Michael Hubbard was killed by a freight train on the Illinois Central at West Point, while on the way to his mother's funeral at Paducah.

His mother, Mrs. Jane Hubbard, died at her home 414 Norton street, Wednesday, as the result of falling and breaking her leg November 1. The body was being held to await the arrival of her son to attend the funeral.

Another son, "Red" Hubbard, was killed in the N. C. & St. L. yards here two years ago. Both sons were railroad men.

Jeff Hubbard and Edward Crawford were drowned in the back water near Chamblin's brick yard five years ago. Jeff Hubbard was also a son of Mrs. Jane Hubbard.

NINETEEN LAID OFF BY I. C. IN LOCAL SHOPS

The mechanical force of Paducah Illinois Central shops was reduced 19 men yesterday, and while no cut was authorized in the car department, one is expected by employees. In the blacksmith shops one blacksmith and one helper were laid off. Three engine wipers were laid off, this being the only cut made in the round house force.

In the car department, where more than 300 men are employed, employees are anxious. They all expect a cut, but cannot predict just how large it will be. Only one month ago 30 additional car repairers were put on to take care of the accumulation of business.

This is the first cut made in the working forces of Paducah Illinois Central shops in two years.

A majority of machinists laid off yesterday are from Louisville, where a strike in the Louisville & Nashville railroad shops put many on the road. Half a dozen Louisville men returned home today to seek positions at home. Few Paducah men were affected by the cut.

"FUNABASHI" NAME OF IRVIN COBB'S MUSICAL COMEDY

New York, Nov. 9. (Special.)—"Funabashi," a musical comedy, by Waters has been accepted by Thomas W. Riley, who produced the "Hell of May Fair," and "Floradora." It will have its initial production in Washington on December 23, and after a short tour be seen here. Mr. Irvin Cobb supplies the book and Mr. Waters the music. The comedy is in three acts and takes the name from a Japanese town in the neighborhood of Tokio. This gives a clew to the plot, which centers around the most recent diplomatic incidents, the war scare and Secretary Taft's trip. All star cast is promised for "Funabashi." Among those engaged are: Joseph and Walter Percival, Charles Bigelow, to have the leading comedy role. The list of lyric writers includes Cobb and Waters, the authors, and Carolyn Wells and Wallace Irwin.

Allied Blind Tiger. Marshal G. G. Shackelford, of Princeton, Ky., brought Will Murrell, colored, to the city this morning and turned him over to the United States authorities to be tried for running a blind tiger. He had served his fine out for this offense in Princeton.

STRIKE IS OFF

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Formal notice of "suspension" of the telegraphers' strike was sent to all local in the country today. Up to noon forty-two locals had voted to return to work.

Morgantown, Ky., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Judge Guffy, thought several days ago to be fatally injured, will recover.

Wells and Nance are Defeated For School Board and Mayer is Councillman From Fifth Ward For Long Term

John K. Hendrick Led His Ticket By Magnificent Majority in McCracken--Water-son For Senator

Few changes were made in the result locally by the official count completed by the board of election commissioners today. The result gives the Republicans a majority of two on joint ballot before the new general council is installed January 1, by reason of the Republicans defeating Alderman Frank D. Smith and Councilman Eugene Tuttle, of the First ward, for the short terms. They are both appointees of Mayor Vesper to fill vacancies caused by resignations until the election, and will be succeeded immediately by their Republican successors.

In the First ward William Karnes, Republican, defeated T. M. Nance, and S. H. Winstead, Democrat, defeated H. S. Wells, Republican, for school trustees.

Hager's majority in the city and county was 88; while John K. Hendrick carried the county by 509.

The total vote in McCracken county is:

Washington, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Justice Harlan has sent a telegram to some Republicans of Kentucky urging them to unite with Democrats to send Henry Watterson to the United States senate.

EDWARD GETS GEM

London, Nov. 9.—King Edward is 66 years old today and received the great Cullinan diamond from the Transvaal government, valued at $2,500,000. It weighs 3.27 pounds and is the largest in the world.

PLEASANT

Fair tonight and Sunday. No decided change in temperature.

The Week In Society.

AUTUMN DAYS.

These days,
These Autumn days,
Are jewels in the crown of days:
The mellow haze
Feels soft and good;
The gold and crimson of the wood,
The lazy azure of the sky,
Are boon and blessing to the eye;
The smell of Autumn comes to us, Narcotic, rich and odorous, And there
Is that in its enchanting air Which charms away the bane of care And makes us glad to live For life's sake; glad to give Ourselves to Nature and to be At one with her—a moment free From man—made things;
A little flight on careless wings Into a realm of easier thought Out of the pleasant fancies wrought By days like these
By days like these.

The Art department of the Woman's club will meet on Saturday at 10 o'clock at the club house. "The Hellenistic Period of Greek Sculpture" will be discussed.

Annual Thanksgiving Reception.
The Woman's Board of the Home of the Friendless will have its annual Thanksgiving reception on Wednesday, November 27, at the Home. This beautiful custom is looked forward to by the givers as well as the recipients each year, and the generosity is unbounded. The season of Thanks giving can be in no way more appropriately observed than in helping this institution of which Paducah is deservedly proud.

To Organize Local Forestry Committee.

Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, of the state federation forestry committee, has called a meeting of all interested in this laudable work for Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Woman's club building, 608 Kentucky avenue. The meeting is for men as well as women, and it is hoped to organize a local forestry committee at once. The Commercial club, Board of Public Works, Park Commissioners and Civics department of the Woman's club are all interested in this question. Dr. Thomas E. Will, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the American Forestry association, will lecture here on the subject of forestry November 27.

Informal Evening for Mrs. Sherrill.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gardner entertained with a neighborhood card party on Monday evening at their home, 105 Fountain avenue, in honor of Mrs. J. J. Sherrill of Chicago, the guest of Mrs. Clarence Sherrill and Paducah will be doubly appreciated. A recent press notice says: "The state president, Mrs. Riker, who has just returned from a tour of Western Kentucky, reports a vast amount of energy and accomplishment in that section, especially in Paducah. It is significant of the 'Fennville's' enthusiasm for the Federation's work that at a recent reception in Paducah to the state president there were represented, besides the five clubs of that town, the most important clubs of Fulton, Mayfield, Wickliffe and other neighboring towns.

"In Paducah itself a great impetus and assistance has been given to the work of the women's clubs by the co-operation of the men. The handsome club house on Kentucky avenue was built partly by the prominent business and professional men—it looks as though a 'Men's Federation of Women's clubs,' the ideal of Mrs. Decker, president of the General Federation, is to be realized in this busy, beautiful little town of Western Kentucky. The meeting of the Federation will be held in Paducah this year, and apropos of the stimulus what the Paducah women have accomplished along civic, philanthropic and aesthetic lines, will be to the Kentucky women who will assemble there in June. Mrs. Riker writes: 'On to Paducah should be the Federation cry of every woman who wishes to find the beauty of energy and the energy of beauty fully illustrated with a hospitality which comes from the heart of things. The Paducah women cannot be surpassed for grace and culture. The grace and culture of mind and heart, the hospitality of heart and eye and hand as well as of the lips, were sources of gratification and inspiration constantly to the state president during her visit.'

"Mrs. Riker was profoundly impressed by the progressive and cosmopolitan spirit in Paducah; the individual work of the various clubs and their splendid co-operation as a harmonious whole for work, with each other and with the Woman's club."

Pretty Evening Party for Entree Nons Club.

Miss Philippa Hughes, a gracious and charming debutante of the winter, was the hostess of the Entree Nons club and some additional guests on Wednesday evening at her home on Broadway. The spacious double parlors were effectively decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns in a green and white color scheme. The pretty course luncheon carried out the same motif. The club prize, a dainty bracelet, went to Mrs. Henry Rudy. The men's prize, a silver mounted flask, was won by Mr. Henry Rudy in a cut with Mr. Pat McElrath. Miss Caroline Sowell captured the visitor's prize, a gorgeous bunch of white chrysanthemums and presented it to Miss Louise Hall of Dyersburg, Tenn., the guest of Miss Rosebud Hobson. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy, Misses Ethel Brooks, Ethel Morrow, Hallie Hisey, Faith Langstaff, Mildred Terrell, Frances Terrell, Rosebud Hobson, Louise Hall, of Dyersburg, Katherine Powell, Katherine Quigley, Little May Winstead, Corinne Winstead, Henry Alcott, Sarah Sanders, Nella Hatfield, Robbie Loving, Caroline Sowell, Mary Scott, Manie Cobb, May Owen, Helio Cave, Elsie Wright, of Urbana, Ohio. Messrs. Louie Rieke, Jr., Cathoun Rieke, Charlie Rieke, Pat McElrath, Frank Boone, Herbert Hawkins, Leo Keller, Wallace Well, Sam Hughes, Philo Alcott, Blanton Allen, George DuBois, James Langstaff, Dow Wilcox, Warren Sights, Douglass Bagby, Walter Iverson, Fred Wade, Richard Scott, George Scott, George Thompson, Jr., Edwin J. Paxton, Dr. Benjamin Howell.

To Lecture for Woman's Club.

Lorado Taft, of Chicago, who will deliver his notable lecture, "A Glimpse of a Sculptor's Studio," here on Monday evening in the auditorium of the Woman's club, is not only a famous sculptor but wherever he has lectured has made a charming impression as a speaker. He has been instructor since 1886 in the Art Institute of Chicago, so the Chicago Tribune has had ample time to note him well, and says:

"After all it was the wit of Lorado Taft that most charmed the great audience last night. From the moment the eminent sculptor began talking, in his composed, genial way, and the first picture was flashed upon the screen, the running fire of comment upon the panorama of artists' faces and typical masterpieces was sparkling with wit. It was a breezy chat with the people in the pews; no estimates of painting were forced upon them, but they were taken into the confidence of the speaker and told what he liked and did not like, and why, but with no trace of oracular assumption. The fact that the lecturer is eminent among the sculptors, not alone of this country, but of others, was not to be inferred from the modest way he talked. Tall, of good presence and strong voice, Mr. Taft is a great success as a lecturer."

The lecture he will deliver here on Monday evening is one of his most famous ones, and is pleasantly enlivened by practical illustrations. He recently gave it at Adrian, Mich., and the papers there said:

"Lorado Taft, the noted sculptor, delivered his lecture on 'A Glimpse of a Sculptor's Studio,' or 'How Statues Are Made,' Mr. Taft's reputation is world-wide, and to speak of his work apart from his lecture would be superfluous. He works in clay and talks all the time, giving what he calls a little lesson on anatomy, a sermon and some fun. Mr. Taft showed what can be done in clay while talking, taking the problem of features, proportion and expression. The portrait of the Princess of Lamballe, and the many changes wrought by the manipulation of the fingers into old age, were wonderful exhibitions of what an artist can do. The lecture showed a sculptor's workshop as it really is, with the artist at work. Mr. Taft is a fascinating and eloquent lecturer, who holds the attention of his audience from start to finish. He gave a striking illustration of what can be done with clay in the hands of a master, by changing the face of a young girl to that of a matron, and then to an aged dame of four score."

Mr. Keller Host of Box Party.
Mr. Leo Keller entertained with a box party at the Kentucky theatre on Thursday evening to witness the play "Zira." In the box were: Miss Louise Hall of Dyersburg, Tenn., and Mr. Keller; Miss Philippa Hughes and Mr. Warren Sights; Miss Ethel Brooks and Mr. George DuBois.

Attractive Children's Party.
Masters Oscar Stutz and Paul Stutz entertained over fifty of their little friends very delightfully on Tuesday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock at their home, 529 Jefferson street. The party was a beautifully planned affair. The souvenirs were tiny rakes, hoes out in the decorations of the house and in the artistically arranged table. The souvenirs were tiny cakes, hoes and spades. Several contests were features of pleasure. Miss Blanche Mooney gave a charming rendition of some old-time fairy tales. Misses Gindy Warfield and Minnie Potter served the fruit punch. The tea were served by Misses Rosalie Warfield and Edna Mooney. The little guests were: Elizabeth Rhodes, Ethel Mooney, Ruth Johnson, Lougenia and Arnela Billings, Margaret Reddick, Miriam Wright, Myra Virginia Gilbert, Katherine and Eleanor Foster, Virginia Ross, Miriam Wellie, Ella Puryear Hubbard, May Paxton Puryear, Elizabeth and Dow Eads, Mary Potter, Louise Ballowe, Frances Allen Katherine Williamson, Maeon and Daisy Gleaves, Emma Gleaves, Florence Thompson, Minnie Wells Cheek, Sarah Conner, Rachel Griffith, Elizabeth Porter, Frances Eaton, Swift, Olive Thompson, Lem Ogilvie, William Eaton, Jimmie Wilhelm, James Readies, Embree Blackard, Murrel Barclay, Robert R. Moore, Charles Frederick Willstach, Russell and Lester Garber, Richard Clements, Paul Smiley, James Ross, Richard Riley, Randolph Bolling, Walter Rhodes, John Rhodes, Frank Rhodes, Wadde Lang, William Wright.

Matinee Musical Club.

A delightful miscellaneous program was featured in the Matinee Musical club on Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of the Woman's club. Miss Isabelle Moban was the leader. Current events were discussed in opening by Mrs. Hal Corbett. Miss Virginia Newell and Miss Mary Scott gave attractive piano selections. Miss Anna Hill sang very sweetly, and "Wynken Blynken and Nod" was effectively sung by Mrs. Janice Wellie, David Flournoy, George B. Hart, Misses Letha Puryear and Mamie Dryfuss. Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells presented a fine paper on "The Power of Music."

U. D. C. Chapter.
Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis was the hostess of the Paducah chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, on Tuesday afternoon, at her home, 529 Washington street. It was the regular November meeting of the chapter which always includes the

FALLING HAIR STOPPED.

Baldness Cured By Destroying the Parasitic Germ That Causes It. Baldness follows falling hair, falling hair follows dandruff, and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as cure dandruff falling hair, and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that, Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new, scientific discovery. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ. "You destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich., W. B. McPherson, Special Agent.

Daily Thought.

I deem the presence of the master to be the eye of the home.— Aeschylus.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

It is curious and illuminating how a retrospective view changes the opinion of persons on conditions and events, as well as individuals, and how when once one has renounced a thing, the whole world comes forward with congratulations, that make one blush at his lingering reluctance to put it away.That the rottenness of a state oligarchy produced the landslide in Kentucky last Tuesday is undoubted, but why anyone should single out Governor Beckham to bear the blame for Hager's defeat, is beyond reason.
Hager was just as important, if not as prominent, a part of the state organization as Beckham.The whole machine was rotten and everybody connected with it was tainted. That accounts for the landslide, but it does not change the fact that the state went Republican, nor does it argue that Democracy in Kentucky was not hit a hard blow by the defeat.Democracy triumphed by the operation that freed her from bad rule, but that does not make whole the party, disintegrated through the evil influences that have been at the vitals of the organization for seven or eight years. But for the unfortunate assassination of William Goebel, Kentucky might long ago have established herself as a Republican state. These parasites at Frankfort have thrived since then on that sore.
This election showed that the sore is healed. Whether Democracy in Kentucky can regain her old-time prestige, will depend on how Democracy shall conduct herself in the future, and how her leading men compare with those of the Republican party.All this was suggested by the following editorial in the Memphis Commercial Appeal:"The election results in Kentucky are really not very surprising when we recall the recent history of the state. The true and tried leaders of the party have been gradually eliminated, and the small fry have been on top. There was bound to be an end of this sort of thing at some time, and the end is in sight."Kentucky is normally a Democratic state. With men like John G.
Carlisle, Wm. Lindsay, Henry Waterson, the late Col. Breckinridge and others sidetracked, it is no wonder that the Democratic ascendancy in Kentucky has been tottering recently. When William Goebel was assassinated several years ago, the Republican party was seriously damaged, and Democratic ascendancy was continued by that deed. Goebel became a martyr, and a certain set of small fry politicians have been thriving on that martyrdom ever since. Had Goebel not been murdered, he would long ago have been relegated to private life with the disapproval of the people of Kentucky.Goebel was able, unamiable and entirely unscrupulous. He canvassed the state of Kentucky for governor, with the result that he had only a trifling over 100 votes in a convention of over1,000 delegates. Hardin and Stone together had eight or nine votes to Goebel's one. Yet, by deceiving and betraying Stone, getting control of the organization and nervously unseal-ing several hundred delegates, Goebel managed to secure the Democratic nomination. It was the most artistic piece of highway robbery ever perpetrated against the Democracy of Kentucky."In the election that ensued Goebel was defeated, and the state election commissioners, who were Democrats, issued a certificate of election to the Republican candidate, Taylor. But Goebel, who was still a state senator, held on to his purpose and got up a contest before the legislature in order to pluck the governorship as he had plucked the Democratic nomination. In short, he is hardly necessary to a cold steel. It is hardly necessary to say that both parties lost their heads, and in the midst of the general excitement some Republican shot (sic) Goebel."It was only natural that this murder should react against the Republican party and make people forget the political sins of William Goebel.
"But the small fry collected around Goebel have been living on his murder ever since. They have let the real murderer—Henry Voutsey—go in a measure, and have concentrated their efforts to bring about the hanging of Caleb Powers, who wasn't in Frankfort when Goebel was killed and who has been connected with the murder only by transparent perjurers.
The Powers case has been a greater stain on Kentucky than the Dreyfus case was on France, but France had the courage to correct her mistake."Kentucky, however, has evidently grown tired of a steady diet of Goebel.
The Democrats have made so many tactical mistakes in perpetrating the memory of that dastardly crime that the people have elected a Republican governor. It is likely that Gov. Willson will pardon Powers and right what seems to be a great wrong.
We trust he will do this not only in the interest of justice, but in the interest of the people of Kentucky. It is time to put the Goebel case to sleep and resume normal ways."Kentucky cannot afford to live upon a memory."Hope Pedestrian Weston will stop at Aurora, Ill., and have a mess of peanuts with Dr. T. J. Allen.If Tom Johnson is satisfied, Bryan is, too.Florence, Ky., was visited by a crackman, who wore a plug hat and rode in an automobile. But, he wasn't the real Wall Street broker, or he would not have got the coach in to blow the top.We're glad the Lusitania, with all that gold aboard, came across the Atlantic ocean to New York instead of down the Missouri river. Unless her people are deteriorating, Kansas City still has some citizens capable of stopping a load like that.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, Nov. 9.—Dispatches to the Dun's Review indicate that trade conditions are irregular, conflicting reports being received from different parts of the country. It is certain that the financial stringency is having a depressing effect, but less severe in some sections than others.
Boston reports a slight improvement in trade conditions, notwithstanding the monetary stringency, dry goods jobbers receiving a larger volume of business for immediate delivery, and there is a more confident feeling that retail stocks are being reduced.Wholesale business continues slow.
Trade is active at Pittsburg, especially as to shipments of coal, but some reduction is recorded in the output of iron and steel.Wholesale lines are fairly active at Baltimore, but collections are slow, and trade is only fair. Atlanta's reports no financial disturbance, although local banks restrict the withdrawal of currency. Cotton moves a little more freely, but most of the crop is still in the hands of the planters. Trade is satisfactory at Louisville, although settlements are delayed by the scarcity of money.
New Orleans reports favorable conditions, although the stringency causes conservatism and collections are only fair. Retail business is active at Kansas City, and jobbers report a large aggregate for October.Trade proceeds satisfactorily at Chicago, considering the difficulties imposed by stringent money. Conservatism is undertaking new enterprises and accommodating borrowers is not likely to be relaxed until financial affairs have become more settled, but necessary renewals will be made for legitimate needs. Retail trade is fair at Cincinnati. A moderate demand is noted for spring goods, but collections are somewhat slow. The advancing season stimulates retail trade at Cleveland, manufacturing continue busy and labor is well employed. Shipbuilders have work on hand that assures activity until next June. Jobbers of millinery and dry goods have had an active season and collections improve. Demand for seasonable merchandise is well maintained at St. Paul, and the northwest was never more prosperous, but financial disturbances have made collections irregular. Stringency has affected business at Portland, Ore., wholesale trade with out-of-townpoints being retarded, but foreign commerce is active and especially shipments of wheat.Dun's Review says: Bank clearings reflect the restriction in settlements through the banks total exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States being $2,141,297,313, 20 per cent. less than last year and 16.6 per cent. less than in the corresponding week of 1905.There is a loss at nearly every city compared with 1905. The loss at New York still reflects stock market conditions to some extent; at some cities in the west the loss is small.

J. W. Usher issued a statement showing that 12,000 acres of tobacco in Graves county had been pledged to tion. This is a gain of 6,000 acres over last season. There were 15,000 acres of tobacco grown in this county this

CHAPTER IX.

A Day in the Market.

The King of the Street stood for a moment staring at me with that strange and fearsome gaze. What was there in that dynamic glance that struck a chill in my spirit as though the very fountain of life had been attacked? Was it the manifestation of the powerful will behind that mask?
Was it terror or anger that was to be read in the fiery eyes that gleamed from beneath those bushy brows, and in the play of the cruel mouth, which from under that yellow-gray mustache gave back the sign of the Wolf?"Have you any orders, sir?" I asked in as calm a voice as I could command."Oh, it's you, is it?" said the Wolf slowly, covering his fangs.It flashed on me that the attack in the Borton den was of his planning, that Terry was his tool, and that he had supposed me dead. It was thus that I could account for his startled gaze and evident discomposure."Nine o'clock was the time, you said," I suggested deferentially. "I believe it's a minute or two past.""Oh, yes," said Doddridge Knapp, pulling himself together. "Come in here."He looked suspiciously at me as he took a seat at his desk and motioned me to another."I had a little turn," he said, eying me nervously; "a vertigo, I believe the doctor called it. Just reach my overcoat pocket there, will you?—the left-hand side. Yes, bring me that flask."He poured out a small glass of liquor, and the rich odor of brandy rose through the room. Then he took a vial from an inside pocket, counted a few drops into the glass and drank it at a swallow.When he had cleared his throat of the liquor, he looked at me again and said:"I had a little turn," he said, eying
me nervously; "a vertigo, I believe the doctor called it. Just reach my
left-hand side. Yes, bring me that flask."He poured out a small glass of
liquor, and the rich odor of brandy rose through the room. Then he took a vial from an inside pocket, counted
a few drops into the glass and drank
it at a swallow.When he had cleared his throat of
the liquor, he looked at me again and
said:"I had a little turn," he said, eying
me nervously; "a vertigo, I believe the doctor called it. Just reach my
left-hand side. Yes, bring me that flask."He poured out a small glass of
liquor, and the rich odor of brandy rose through the room. Then he took a vial from an inside pocket, counted
a few drops into the glass and drank
it at a swallow.When he had cleared his throat of

me nervously; "a vertigo, I believe the doctor called it. Just reach my
left-hand side. Yes, bring me that flask."the fiery liquor, the Wolf turned to me with a more composed and kindly expression."And now to business," said my employer with decision. "Take down these orders."The King of the Street was himself once more, and I marvelled again at the quickness and clearness of his directions. I was to buy one hundred shares of this stock, sell five hundred of that stock, buy one thousand of another in blocks of one hundred, and sell the same in a single block at the last session."And the last thing you do," he continued, "buy every share of Omega that is offered. There'll be a big block of it thrown on the market, and more in the afternoon. Buy it, whatever the price. There's likely to be a big slump. Don't bid for it—don't keep up the price, you understand—but get it.""If somebody else is snapping it up, do I understand that I'm not to bid over them?""You're not to understand anything of the kind," he said, with a little distinct in his tone. "You're to get the stock. You've bought and sold enough to know how to do that. But don't start a boom for the price. Let her go down. Sabotage?"I felt that there was deep water ahead."Perfectly," I said. "I think I see the whole thing."The King of the Street looked at me with a grim smile."Maybe you do, but all the same you'd better keep your money out of this little deal unless you can spare it as well as not. Well, get back to your room. You've got your check-book all right?"Alone once more I was in despair of unravelling the tangle in which I was involved. I felt convinced that Doddridge Knapp was the mover in the plots that sought my life. He had, I felt sure, believed me dead, and was startling me to fear at my unheralded appearance. Yet, why should he trust me with his business? I could not doubt that the buying and selling he had given to my care were important.
I knew nothing about the price of stocks, but I was sure that the orders he had given me involved many thousands of dollars. Yet it might be—the thought struck home to me—that the credit had not been provided for me, and my checks on the Nevada bank would serve only to land me in jail.The disturbed condition of the looks attracted my attention once more.
The volumes were scattered over the desk and thrown about the room as though somebody had been seeking for a mislaid document. I looked curiously over them as I replaced them on the shelves. They were law-books, California Reports, and the ordinary textbooks and form-books of the attorney. All bore on the flyleaf the name of Horace H. Plymre, but no paper or other indication of ownership could I find.I wondered why this Plymre might be, and pleased to myself somewhat at the discovery that he had fallen into the hands of Doddridge Knapp, and had through misfortune, been forced to sell everything for the needs of patients.
I kept the book in my hand. But there was small time for musing, and I went out to do Doddridge Knapp's bidding in the stock-exchanging whirlpool of Pine street.It was easy to find Bockstein and Eppner, and these could be no mistaking the prosperity of the firm. The indifference of the clerks to my presence, and the evident contempt with which an order for a hundred shares of something was being taken from an apologetic old gentleman were enough to assure of that.Bockstein and Eppner were together, evidently consulting over the business to be done. Bockstein was tall and gray-haired, with a study's gray beard. Eppner was short and a little stout, with a black mustache, wearing blue-black eyes and strong blue-black dots over his face where his beard struggled vainly against the devastating razor. Both were strongly marked with the shrewd, money-getting visage. I set forth my business."You want to sell a fresh order," said Bockstein, looking over my memoranda. "Do you have references?""Yes," echoed Eppner. "References are customary, you know." He spoke in a high keyed voice that had irritating suggestions in it."Is there any reference better than cash?" I asked.The partners looked at each other.
"None," they replied."How much will secure you on the order?"

If you have been reading my advertisements on Osteopathy, and are not yet satisfied that it will do all I claim, I should like to have you call at my office some time just to make a personal investigation.In the short time that I have been here I have had the pleasure of treating some of the most prominent people of the city, for one thing and another, and I have yet to find a patient who was dissatisfied.Every day but adds, too, to the number of people who are finding that the Osteopathic treatment is all that we claim for it. Of course in some instances relief or cures are quicker than in others, as is but natural.If you are suffering from any form of nervousness, liver, bowel, stomach or kidney troubles, of asthma, chronic headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago or general debility, don't wait too long before doing something for it, but come to see me and let me make a diagnosis of the case and tell you frankly what Osteopathy will do for you.Osteopathy is not a cure all, nor will it cure in a night; there is nothing occult about it.—Just a scientific, rational, back to nature treatment that is doing much for suffering humanity.DR. G. B. FROAGE.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Important Called Meeting.
There will be a called meeting of the Woman's club on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the club house. Business of urgent importance and all the members are asked to be present.

Attractive Church Social.
The Dutch Market, which was given by Mrs. William Bourquin and Miss Olga List's Sunday school, classes of the German Evangelical church, was a decided success. A large crowd was present and an enjoyable time was had by all who attended. The market place was decorated with red and white and plants of white chrysanthemums were on the different stands. Many delightful Dutch dishes were served by girls in the quaint Dutch costume. About $25 was realized.

Interesting Alumni Meeting.
The Paducah High School Alumni association held the regular meeting for November on Friday afternoon at the High school auditorium. An attractive literary program was rendered under the direction of the literary committee, of which Mrs. John J. Doran is chairman. Miss Mary Brazleton gave a delightful paper on "The Early American Poets." Miss Adah Brazleton rendered with skill two piano numbers. Mrs. Louis M. Riecke, the president, was in the chair and the alumni was well represented. At the business session there was much routine and new business discussed. The alumni will continue its work to establish manual training in the city schools, which it set on foot last year with a lecture by the teacher of manual training in the Cairo public schools, and of which it is the earnest advocate as well as pioneer. The alumni will co-operate in the forestry work of the federation.

Ricketts-Morris.
The marriage of Miss Xenophon Ricketts, of Cairo, to Mr. Noble K. Morris, of Paducah, is announced to take place on the evening of December 25 at 8 o'clock at the residence of Miss Ricketts. It will be a formal affair and many friends will be invited. Invitations are not out, but the news of the wedding leaked out through friends of Mr. Morris in Paducah.

Miss Ricketts is the daughter of Mr. J. F. Ricketts, a prominent lumber dealer of Cairo. She is one of the most popular and attractive young society girls of Cairo, and is well known to many Paducahians. Mr. Morris is the son of Mr. E. F. Morris, of 219 Farley Place, Mechanicville, and is one of the most popular young men of the city. He is a representative of the Courtney Shoe company, of St. Louis, with headquarters at Poplar Bluff, Mo., and was until a year ago traveling out of Paducah for the Fels Bros. Clothing company.

After the wedding the couple will

TO HOLD OFFICIALS LIABLE FOR DEATHS.

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—The state railroad commission, according to Commissioner Wood, will within a few days begin carrying out a plan to hold high officials criminally responsible for murder of passengers in railroad wrecks. The state's legal department will back the commission.

Socialists Aim at Kaiser.

London, Nov. 9.—The socialists do not conceal their intention to make a demonstration against the Kaiser when he officially visits London next Wednesday. One of their leaders says that the emperor's progress through the city will be anything but triumphant. He does not disclose how the disapproval of the socialists will be expressed, but declares that his majesty will not be received with cheers, adding: "Of course, nothing improper will be done."

Texas Fever in Hickman.

Hickman, Ky., Nov. 9.—The government stock inspector has been to Hickman to investigate the twenty-five or thirty cases of Texas fever which have remained to cattle in this town. As a result, a rigid quarantine has been placed over the town for nine months. The disease was brought here by two Texas steers which were imported for logging purposes.

Fugitive Arrested Here.

Marshall, Mo., Nov. 9.—Adams, Tenn., arrived this morning in search of Louis Halloway, white, who was out on a $250 bond for carrying a pistol and skipped his bond. Detectives Moore and Baker arrested him this morning and Marshal Hatfield will take Halloway back this afternoon.

For the Undertaker.

Tiffin, Ohio, Nov. 9.—Miss Nan Nolan, a favorite niece of the late Thomas O'Connor of Joplin, Mo., the multi-millionaire zinc king, was wed yesterday at Dearborn, Mich., to William Schwartz, a Fremont undertaker. The bride had received $350,000 from her uncle's estate.

Wife Keeps Suicide Pact.

Greely, Col., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Carrie Toller, widow of J. W. Toller, a wealthy lumber dealer, today kept a suicide pact with her husband. Despite relatives watching she blew out her brains. Ten days after the husband ended his life. No reason for either suicide was revealed.

WATERWAYS

DECISION MADE BY ILLINOIS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Affects Plan for Improvement of Des Plaines River—What He Has to Say.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 9.—A heavy blow was dealt deep waterway advocates this afternoon in an opinion rendered by Attorney General Stead. The opinion deals with the navigability of the Des Plaines river and the effect of the proposed dam at Dresden Heights.

Stead interpreted the law on the subject as follows: "The navigability of the Des Plaines river is a question of fact and not of law. If the Des Plaines river is not navigable in fact, no action will lie by the state to remove, or prevent, a completion of the dam now in course of construction by the Economy Light and Power company of Joliet, at Dresden Heights. The Economy company holds a valid lease to state property at the site of the Dresden Heights dam and may use this land for the construction of the dam even to the extent of flooding same."

Under this ruling the prospects of deep waterway goes glimmering unless the people vote the expenditure of $20,000,000 for a deep waterway, with the knowledge that the power created will yield millions of dollars to the Economy company, instead of the state. This is considered so remote, however, that there appears small prospect of even an attempt on the part of the state to have the question passed upon.

According to Stead's opinion in the judgment of lawyers who examined the document the only chance for the state to acquire a title to any water power along the channel of the proposed ship canal is to buy outright at a condemnation sale, the riparian rights of abutting land owners. The outlay required for this is so stupendous that such a plan will probably be dismissed without further consideration. It appears now to be up to the United States government to proceed with the deep waterway movement if the dreams of the promoters of the Lakes to Gulf Deep Sea Canal are to be realized.

The Dresden Heights dam will not interfere with the physical construction of a deep waterway, the provision having been made for a fourteen foot channel. This meets the requirements of the war department, and harmonizes with the federal scheme for deep waterway development.

COMMENTS

ADMINISTRATION FOR PROMOTION OF CIVIL SERVICE.

League Adjourns After Electing Joseph A. Choate President—Its Work.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform league practically ended this afternoon. Joseph H. Choate was elected president and resolutions were adopted commending President Roosevelt for "determined and effective enforcement of the civil service laws and rules," and expressing satisfaction that congress gives evidence of stronger support of the principles of the merit system.

The resolutions urge congress to take further steps to relieve its members entirely from "unprofitable labor of distributing patronage," and urges the president and congress to provide for a competitive classification of assistant postmasters, pension examining surgeons and fourth-class postmasters; also to provide that all other postmasters and collectors of customs and internal revenue shall be appointed by promotion, thereby abolishing the present practice of appointing inexperienced persons.

The president is urged to "make such amendments to the civil service rules as will reduce to the minimum the practice of making special exceptions thereto." The policy of placing Indian agents in charge of an appointee classified under the competitive system is approved.

Papers were read by William Dudley Foulke, of Richmond, Ind., Fulton L. Waldo, secretary of the Pennsylvania Civil Service association, and Professor John A. Fairlie, of the University of Michigan.

At a banquet tonight the principal speakers were Richard Watson Glider of New York, Attorney General Bonaparte and William Dudley Foulke.

TAR AND STONE

MAY BE USED IN PAVING NORTH SEVENTH STREET.

City Engineer L. A. Washington directed to inspect work at Jackson, Tenn.—B. P. W. Meets.

Seven street between Jefferson and Madison streets, will be paved with tar and crushed stone as an experiment, and if the experiment proves successful, this class of street improvement will doubtless be adopted on a large scale. At Jackson, Tenn., the government experimented successfully with this material and City Engineer L. A. Washington directed by the board of public works to visit that city and learn all he could about the process. He was also instructed to prepare plans for the street improvement that the work be pushed rapidly to completion.

All members of the board of public works were present at the special meeting held yesterday afternoon. Street Inspector Elliott was authorized to buy 3,000 yards of gravel for street repair work.

Superintendent Keebler, of the city lighting plant, was instructed to remove all telephone poles used by the city or telegraph companies not actually necessary for stringing wires. The board desires to rid the city of so many poles.

The gas company was granted permission to make gas connections on Jefferson street near Seventh street from the bitulithic street. The company will have to replace the street in its former good condition.

Debris was ordered cleared from in front of 615 and 617 North Fifth street.

Gas cut off boxes on North Fourth street, which project above the pavement, were ordered removed or cut down to a grade with the pavement.

Concrete sidewalks on Broadway from Fifteenth to Twenty-fifth street were accepted. They were built by Contractor George Kinterjohn, but one portion between Fountain avenue and the Bradshaw creek culvert is not yet complete on account of street improvement work. Contractor Kinterjohn gave bond to complete it when possible.

A drain sewer at Fourth and Clay streets was ordered lowered to improve surface water drainage.

Acceptance of concrete pavements on Fourth and Fifth streets from Clay to Tribune streets was deferred until defects are remedied by the contractor.

A financial statement was presented to the board, showing that about $6,000 remained in the street fund to be used between now and the end of the year.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.
Cairo	11.8	0.5 rise
Chattanooga	3.2	0.5 fall
Cincinnati	10.7	1.6 rise
Evansville	11.1	0.8 rise
Florence	1.4	0.1 rise
Johnsonville	2.3	0.1 rise
Louisville	7.6	0.6 rise
Mt. Carmel	5.3	0.2 fall
Nashville	9.1	0.6 rise
Pittsburg	10.2	1.5 fall
St. Louis	6.4	0.0 std
Mt. Vernon	10.1	1.9 rise
Paducah	7.3	0.8 rise

The rise of 0.8 shown by the marks of the government gauge this morning is the largest that has been recorded at this point in several months. The stage is now 7.3, with a rise of nearly two feet reported at Cincinnati and Louisville. This will give Paducah a reasonably fair boating stage by tomorrow.

There was little doing at the wharf boat this morning, both receipts and shipments being light.

The Kentucky is receiving freight today preparatory to leaving tonight for her regular weekly trip up the Tennessee.

The J. B. Richardson left this morning at 8 o'clock for Cairo.

The H. W. Butteroff is due in from Evansville today.

The Castalia came in from Joppa this morning.

The Royal was able to make her regular trip from Golconda today.

The Clyde is due in from the Tennessee river Monday night.

River men say that the shipments of lumber, stock and farm produce by southern farmers has fallen off considerably. The producers are unusually good shape this fall and it is said that they are able to hold everything until the situation clears up.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio from Evansville to Cairo will continue rising during the next three days.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, not much change during the next 36 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to above Cairo, not much change during the next 36 hours.

PEACE ON THIS SIDE OF THE WORLD IS PROMISED.

Managua, Nicaragua, Nov. 9.—Presidents Zelaya, of Nicaragua, Davila, of Honduras, and Figueroa, of Salvador, were in conference yesterday at Amnnapla for the purpose of considering peace in Central America. They agreed to forget past differences and declared fraternal relations existed mutually, and that previous treaties of friendship were in force.
